The Department of Spiritual Work First Vice-President. Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every living creature. This department exercises watch-care over the spiritual life of the League. From the Plan and the Constitution you can learn the lines of work it undertakes. Several of these may be considered at length. The Devotional Meeting. This is the most important meeting of the League and too much time and attention and thoughtful care cannot be given to it. A few suggestions may be of assistance. 1. Time. --The best time to hold it is the hour before the Sunday evening service. Local causes may, however, make some other time necessary. Some few Chapters hold their meetings after the evening service. The writer recommends the hour before service and a reception for strangers after the service, in the church parlors. 2. Leader. --In some Leagues the First Vice-President conducts all of the devotional meetings; in others, a special leader is selected; in others, the First Vice-President selects one or more persons to conduct it each evening. The latter plan is preferable for the reason that it is training leaders. Sometimes even three persons may be in charge; one to conduct the opening service or the readings; one, the prayers; one, the testimonies. During the week preceding, all of these are to be at work planning and working up the various interests of the meeting. The First Vice-President should...
