More detailed knowledge of the scattering process would also be of great aid in understanding certain aspects of gas discharges. The simplest case of this sort is the scattering of electrons by hydrogen atoms. Measurements of the cross section for this system have been made by Bederson in the energy range above 2 volts. However, experiments for the energy range from zero electron energy to thermal energy, a range of practical interest, are extremely difficult to carry out. At present there exists no data for this energy range. In order to gain some knowledge of the low-energy scattering it is necessary to carry out a theoretical calculation. The problem of the scattering of electrons by hydrogen atoms is a three-body problem and thus not amenable to exact solution. One is therefore compelled to seek...
